- recent illness/injury and long-term conditions experienced
- episodes in hospitals
- consultations with doctors, dentists and other health professionals
- use of medications
- smoking, alcohol consumption and exercise patterns
- height, weight and dietary indicators

1988-89 HOUSEHOLD EXPENDITURE SURVEY

Results from the 1988-89 Household Expenditure Survey are now available. During the twelve months ended June 1989, the ABS conducted a survey to determine the expenditure patterns of Australian households. A survey was taken of 7,405 households in all States and Territories with information being obtained from a combination of personal interview and the use of expenditure diaries. Expenditure data were collected about 430 goods and services as well as income and other demographic characteristics of the households.

In addition to published results a wide range of unpublished household expenditure, income and housing data are available on request. A Special Data Request can provide the client with:

- tailor-made data requests to the client's exact specifications
- consultants who provide prompt, professional service
- 1 to 2 day turnaround on most requests
- data delivery on all currently popular mediums
- printed, publication quality data tables
- complete back-up service providing conceptual and methodological advice and clarification.
